From Plantation Services

South Carolina plantations are in demand. Plantation Services has sold two more plantations in the ACE Basin.

Pynes and Myrtle Grove, two adjoining ACE Basin plantations in Colleton County have been sold. The properties have significant building improvements with timberlands, dove fields, and old rice fields providing excellent hunting. Both properties were under one ownership and purchased by one buyer.

This transaction follows the sale of other large tracts in the ACE Basin recently handled by Plantation Services. A 3700-acre timber and hunting tract is expected to close before the end of the year.

Plantation Services is a land brokerage firm specializing in the sale of southeastern farms and plantations since 1959. Clients have included individuals, corporations, timber companies, commercial banks, investment banks, insurance companies, state government and foreign investors.

Offices are in Albany, Georgia and Charleston, South Carolina.
